From the Renovation Committee:

The exterior landscaping is complete and the place looks AWESOME!! We have beautiful trees and shrubs in the back and have improved the appearance and value of this property tremendously with minimal expense. The grass is coming in nicely and is already being mowed. If you find yourself with spare time, there is watering of the trees and shrubs that has to be done every day, and we could sure use your help!

Moving forward, the plans have finally been approved by the State, and we can proceed with the interior part of the renovation project. Now is when the work really begins!! Since we are acting as our own General Contractor, there is much to do in preparing a bid list for the contractors. Our committee is meeting each Friday at the new Masonic Center to lay out the items needed for bidding and will soon have this list in the hands of the contractors for them to bid the job. It is our hopes to have the renters in before the snow flies, with the Lodge construction work to be done over winter and ready for us by March.

Please remember that our committee meets nearly every Friday morning, and we welcome visitors. If you would like a tour, or are curious on the progress, please stop and see us. This is YOUR Lodge, and we encourage your thoughts and ideas.

Fraternally,

Jim Campbell
Renovations Committee Chair

Greetings Sisters and Brothers:

After staying the night at the hunters cabin up by Antigo, Renee and Jim Campbell and I attended the exemplification at Rhinelander in August. Just a few new things for us to remember. We had a good time visiting with members from other chapters. It was a very hot and humid day, but everyone survived.

It looks like Fall is in the air with some of the cool days and nights we have had. That means it is back to business for the remainder of the year. I hope everyone has a safe Labor Day holiday. Enjoy the Shawano Co. Fair.
